A DAY OF DEPOSITIONS.

Evidence for Breckinridge in the Breach of Promise Case.

THE TESTIMONY OF AN EDUCATOR.

College President Brown Declares That , the Congressman Visited Miss Pollard but Once at Wesleyan Seminary-The Defendant Will be the Last Witness.

WASHINGTON, March 23.-Counsel for Colouel Breckinridge have decided to follow the example of their opponents by reserving their ellent's testimony for the closing eard in their case. Accordingly the silver haired congressman disappointed many people by failing to go upon the witness stand, and one of the disappointed ones was Madeline Pollard berself, who left court as soon as she learned of the program for the day. The entire day was dragged out by the reading of depositions, all aimed at two points, viz.; To prove that Miss Pollard did not give birth to a child at the Norwood convent in 1855, and that she is older than she represents herself to be.

The first deposition read was that of Sister Augustine, of the Norwood Convent asylum, where Miss Pollard was at first confined. This sister had been for years at the convent, did not recognize Miss Pollard as one who had been at the institution, and said there had never been but one Louise Wilson there, and she gave birth to a child there last fall.

The entries on the convent books under the name of Mrs. Burgoyne (Miss Pollard's alleged assumed name) corresponded with the dates which Miss Pollard and Dr. Street had given of her admittance to the asylum, the birth of her child and her departure. The name of the child on the record was M. Gertrude Burgoyne. According to the recollection of the sister, Mrs. Burgoyne had visited the convent twice after the child was born. The child died in July, 1885. When Miss Poliard was told of this, the sister deposed, she had thrown up her hands and run from the room, but when she returned there were no evidences of grief in her face. Sister Augustine, according to the deposition, had declared that the statue of St. Joseph in the convent had perfect eyes. Miss Pollard had recollected that one eye of the statue was out of line.

The second deposition read by Attorney Stoll was by Lena Schmidt, who had been employed for eighteen years in the Norwood convent, who had no recollection of a woman in the convent in 185 under the name of Louise Wilson, and had never seen Madeline Poliard until last Docember. She had then been present at the interview between Fister Agnes and the plaintiff. According to Lerrenumbrance, $500 For the city's funds went down with Miss Pollard had said of her motives for the crash, Rechainfollow being city treasthesunt. In re-direct examination Mr. Brown declared that Miss Pollard was old enough, when in school, and had sufficient general knoweldge to resist improper advances from a man. It was a part of the curriculum to teach girls what sort of treatment they should expect from gentlemen. When this matter was gone into at further length Miss Pollard's attorneys objected, and Judge Bradley excluded it, remarking 'That's expert testimony,' thereby stirring a laugh. The deposition of Dr. U. B. Williams, who had lived in Bridgeport, Ky., in 1865, was objected to but admitted with the exception of one question and answer. In that year he had attended Mrs. Pollard when she gave birth to a child. There were then three other children, one of them a little tot called "Mattle" or "Madie," and the child born then also was called "Madie." The doctor on crossexamination, it appeared, is a member of the board of pension examiners. Dr. J. Owen Robinson, of Lexington whose deposition was read, knew Miss Pollard, considered her not a beautiful girl, but one attractive because of her intellectual brilliancy. He first met Madeline at the house of her aunt in Bridgeport in 1880, and she impressed bim as being between 16 and 17 years old. More of what

Judge Bradley considered expert testimony was excluded. Another deposition by F. M. Schofield, of Frankfort, Ky., formerly of Bridgeport, a blacksmith, met objection from the plaintiff's attorneys. The blacksmith had known Miss Pollard's father in 1863, and testified that he had three children then, the youngest of them, Madeline, who looked like a child of 3 years. There will be nothing more for the jury until Monday, as the court is observing Good Friday, and the session tomorrow will be devoted to arguments over the admissability of depositions to show that Miss Pollard had been intimate with other men than the defendent, to which the plaintiff has given notice of objections. Judge Bradley has been the recipient since the commencement of the trial of an unusually large correspondence, all concerning this case. Many letters come from religious people, urging him in the druggists, 25 cents.

One missive which caused the judge to smile was signed by a woman member of the bar, and suggested that since he had excluded all women from the court when Miss Pollard gave her testimony, the men should be debarred and the women admitted when Colonel Breckinridge takes the stand.

GEORGE DIXON "DOWNED"

The "Kentucky Rosebud" Gives the Champion His First Knockdown. PHILADELPHIA, March 23.—If the second round of the bout last night between George Dixon, present featherweight champion of the world, and Walter Edgerton, familiarly known as the "Kentucky Rosebud," of this city, had been allowed to continue for three minutes Dixon would have been completely knocked out. As it was it took him one and one-half minutes to recover his senses, while in the meantime the 20,060 persons who were present went wild with enthusiasm.

The "friendly bout" took place at Industrial hall, where an athletic entertainment was in progress for the aid of the poor of this city. After a few preliminary bouts, including one between Jim Daly and Joe Butler, the two colored lads made their appearance in the ring. Dixon was cared for by his sparring partner, Jimmy Lynch, while Jimmy McHale, the "Rose-bud's" backer, looker after his interest.

Neither man attempted to do any singging in the first round, which was of two minutes' duration, but the fun came in the second round. The old enasity which exists between the two men cropped out, and they rushed each other all over the ring for a minute. The "Rosebud" had Dixon in the latter's corner, and the little champion seemed to be wary of his autagonist. Edgerton led with his left, and as Dixon parried the blow with his right the "Rosebud" swung his big right glove on George's neck. Dixon went down like a log, his head striking the floor a hard crack, which probably stunned him. Ref-eree Cole picked him up and sat him on the chair in his corner. It was just one minute and ten seconds before Dixon realized what had happened. The bout lasted one and a half minutes.

The Murderer's Execution Postponed Until Friday, April 6.

CHICAGO, March 23.—After the refusal of the supreme court to grant a stay to Patrick Eugene Prendergast, sentenced to hang here at Chicago today for the murder of Mayor Harrison, the attorneys for the defense decided to appeal to Governor Altgeld. Wednesday evening Clarence S. Darrewe telegraphed the governor at Bilozi, Miss., asking him to grant a respite. Governor Altgeld telegraphed Darrow that he "declined to interfere with the duties belonging to the lieutenant gov-ernor of Illinois."

A petition was then drawn up by Mr. Darrow, and he secured the signatures of nine circuit court judges of Cook county. Armed with this document the lawyers proceeded to Springfield and argued for a stay of execution. After hearing the ar-gument, Lieutenant Governor Gill announced, at 10 c'clock last night, that he could grant no reprieve.

Meantime Prendergast's lawyers here had not been idle. They had raised the question of their client's responsibility by claiming that he has become insane since the trial. Judge Cheltham was applied to, and after hearing the arguments in the case he, shortly after 11 o'clock last night, postponed the time of Prendergast's execution until Friday, April 6. The formal hearing of the case will be begun before Judge Cheltham and a jury tomorrow.

IN SENATE AND HOUSE

The House Deadlocked Over a Contested Election Case.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The house spent the entire day in filibustering over the O'Neill-Joy contested election case from the St. Louis district. The report of the committee on elections is in favor of unseating Mr. Joy (Rep.), and the Republicans are determined that this shall not be accomplished unless the Democrats produce their own quorum. For five hours they filibustered, and kept the Louse deadlocked. The highest number of Demo-cratic vote, cast during the day was 106, thirteen short of a quorum. An unsuccessful attempt was made to adjourn over Good Friday, and the struggle was resumed today.

The bill for the purchase of a site for a new government printing office consumed nearly the whole morning hour in the senate, and, much to the surprise of nearly everybody, an amendment providing for the purchase of what is known as the "Mahone site" was passed. Notice for a motion to reconsider was given. The Mc-Garrahan bill went over until Monday. After a brief executive session the senate adjourned until Monday.

ENFORCING RESPECT.

Hungarian Students Forcibly Compel Tributes to Kossuth.

ALL THE PLAY HOUSES INVADED.

Actors Driven from the Stages and Audiences from the Buildings, While Emblems of Mourning Are Displayed-Concert Halls Also Compelled to Close.

BCDA PESTH, March 23.-The government has so far yielded to the popular demand regarding the respect to be shown by it to the memory of Kossuth that it has caused to be heisted upon the state buildings the national flag draped with

The students of this city, all of whom are ardent admirers of the great general, are apparently determined that the people shall pay every respect to his memory or else suffer the consequences. Last night crowds of the students went about the city smashing windows and gas lamps in front of houses on which no mourning was displayed. Performances were being given in the theaters as usual. The students invaded the theaters and drove from the stage with missives of all sorts the actors taking part in the performance. They then turned their attention to the audiences and managed in every case to drive them from the building.

The same tactics were employed at the concert halls, and the students compelled the closing of all of them. The police made attempts to arrest the disturbers of the peace, but the students, who were out a strong force and who were aided by the rough element, resisted them, and a number of sanguinary street conflicts took place.

When strong bands of the students entered the Royal Opera house and National theater the attaches and the police stationed at those places attempted to prevent them. The students fought their way into the bodies of the houses and stopped the performance. They demanded that black banners be displayed, and upon being met with refusals they themselves hoisted mourning banners they had brought with them over the boxes.

It is stated that several of the Hungarian ministers, all the members of the lower house of the diet and many of the members of the upper house will attend Kossuth's funeral.

The distinguished Hungarian novelist, Maurice Jokay, has issued an appeal to the Hungarian people, in which he asks that all the draped flags which the army of sorrowing people will carry before the hearse conveying Rossuth's remains be preceded by a white dog of reconciliation—an hamaculate white dag of homage to the pillar of the calstitution.

JUSTICE NEWTON PLEADS GUILTY. He Gets Nine Months' Imprisonment.

Constable Januaron Convicted.

BROOKLYN, March 23.-Richard V. B. Newton, the former Gravesend police justice, pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with conspiracy in the election trauds in Gravesend, and threw himself upon the mercy of the court. He was then sentenced to nine months in the penitentiary and a fine of $500. Newton's plea is, with the possible exception of the McKane trial, the greatest victory which the prosecution in the Gravesend frauds has yet won. It came entirely unexpectedly to his fellow towns-men, and until the last two or three days it had never been surmised by the prosecution itself. The plea throws the Gravesend camp into consternation. One of the most powerful inhabitants has now given up the fight, and the others do not see how they can hope to fight their indictments on trial successfully.

Judge Brown in sentencing Newton said: "If tried you could have been sentenced as an extreme penalty to three years in the penitentiary and a fine of $500. I must, of course, consider the trouble and expense which you have saved the county by your plea of guilty."

He will spend thirty days in jail before going to the penitentiary, unless Judge Brown remits thirty days when the court again sits on Monday next. A verdict of guilty of perjury, with a strong recommendation to mercy, was rendered by the jury in the case of Andrew Scott Jamieson, the Gravesend constable, whose offense was committed in connection with the recent election frauds. The prisoner was remanded to the care of the sheriff until Monday, when he will be sentenced by Judge Brown.

The high east and west walls of the Champs building fell, crushing five two story structures like eag shells. A LYNCHING AVERTED.

Terrible Triple Tragedy in the Village of Midvale, Pa.

AN INNOCENT INFANT MURDERED.

The Murderer, a Burly Polander, Then Fatally Wounded His Wife and a Fellow Countryman-Ris House Partly Demolished by an Entaged Mob.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 23.—A bloody tragedy occurred at Midvale, this county, last evening Midvale is a village of 250 inhabitants, and the majority of the settlers are foreigners, the Polish element predominating. John Sanders keeps the largest boarding house in the place. He is a big, burly Polander, greatly feared by his countrymen.

Last evening Sanders had a quarrel with a Polander named Mike Boshop. The latter is alleged to have said: "You big tyrant, I am not atraid of you." The words had hardly left his mouth when Sanders ran to a corner of the room and picked up a rifle. Boshop tried to escape by running out of the back door, but he was not quick enough. Sanders took aim and fired. The first shot missed Bishop, but it found a target in the person of 2-year-old Willie Hendershot, who was re-clining in his mother's arms in the adjoining room. The ball pierced the little fellow's brain and he expired almost immediately. The mother fell in a swoon, and at first it was thought that both mother and child were dead. The second shot fired by Sanders entered Boshop's body near the heart and he fell to the ground.

Sanders, thinking he had killed Boshop, returned to the house and attacked his wife, accusing her of being intimate with the boarders. He fired two shots at the woman, both of which took effect, one lodging in the fleshy part of the right leg and the other in the neck. It is thought that the latter wound will prove fatal. Boshop and the woman were removed to a hospital. The doctors say that the man can live but a few hours, and there is but little hope for the woman.

After the shooting Sanders barricaded himself in the house. The news of the tragedy spread rapidly, and in less than an hour over 500 people had gathered in the vicinity. The crowd began to stone the house, when Sanders raised the window and fired two shots from a revolver into the crowd. This made the people more desperate than ever, and the cry went up: "Burn the house down! Lynch the scoundrel!" Several attempts to burn the house was made, but they were not successful, and the mob began to tear the house down. All the windows were broken, but nobody had the courage to enter the house and capture the assassin. County Detective Whalen and Patrick McGrorty attempted to enter one of the windows, but the whiz of a ballet from Sanders' revolver drove them back.

Later Squire Perkins, of Wilhesbarre, headed a party which entered the house. They found the murderer helpless, his ammunition having been exhausted. He was found lying under a bed, with the rifle and two empty revolvers lying by his: dde. Plood was streaming from a wound in the back of his head, which was thought to have been inflicted by a stone thrown through the window,

When the nurderer was brought out of the non-e the cross dwanted to banch him, appealed to them to let the law take its course. Several into all mixed to take the prisoner by force, but the wisdom of the letter clement prevailed, and Sanders was finally lod_ed in jail.

The house is almost a complete wreck. Every window is broken and one side of the building was tora away by the mob in their frenzy.

Recruits for Coxey's Army.

Pittsming, March 23.-Eight men, who were on their way to join Coxey's army, were arrested in the Fort Wayne yards in lower Allegheny. They were taken before Alderman Schellman, when a charge of trespass was lodged against them. In default of a fine of 85 and costs they were sent to jail for five days each. Seven of them registered at the jail as follows: John Ryan, George Hammond, Pat Lawler, Mat Burns, John King, William Devine and William Ryan. They gave their places of residence as New York, Philaslalphia and Baltimore. Complaints from the suburbs are numerous. The outlying districts down the Fort Wayne road have been overrun with tramps the past few days. The officers of the railroad complain that they are having trouble on a pumber of trains.

Druggist Olney Will Give Lastated Food

fo Mothers.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

No Matter What You Are Using Now. Try a Package of This Wonderful Food-It Has Saved Thousands of and Invalids.

Infant feeding is fraught with difficulties. Hosts of indocent babes, watched with the utmost care, have died because their badly nourished bodies could not resist disease.

Until recent years, infants deprived of mother's milk have been reared in a haphazard and unscientific manner; but all this is now changed. Scientific men of the highest standing have devoted themselves exclusively to the problem of what is the best food for babies. Many results have come, but the greatest and most practical is Lactated Food, the most nourishing, strengthening, readily digested, and paiatable food that can be given a baby.

W. D. Olney, the popular druggist, has sold Lactated Food for a number of years and with the best of satisfaction. To bring it to the attention of those who have not used it, he offers to give a twenty-five cent package to any mother or to any invalid or aged person in need of a nourishing and easily digested food, who will cut out the Argus coupon. This package is large enough to make ten pints of nourishing food that will demonstrate to the user the superiority of Lactated Food.

This coupon entitles any mother or invalid who has not used Lactated Food, to a 25 cent package of this celebrated Food for infants and invalids. Bring the coupon to our store, or mail it with scents to pay postage. Only one coupon received from the same family.

BIG SNOW IN MAINE.

The Old Residenter Remembers a Fall That Beat This Winter's Big One.

There was a full bench of crossroads philesophers gathered in the store and postoffice at the Corners the other evening. The "pestiferous snow" was the first subject to which they gave attention. Solomon Growles, who had just come in from a day's chase of a fox, with snowshoes and gun, declared with more solemnity than usual to him: "Snow's more'n 40 foot deep over on the back side of Smith's hill. I can swear to that, fer I've measured it." "That's purty deep for hereabouts," put in old Elijah Scammon in his softest tones, "but it can't hold a candle to what I saw in 1843 up north of Brassua lake. That winter our toto road for more n a quarter of a mile ran through a notch tween two party good hills that come up close together. Mebbe the sides of that notch was about 200 feet higher in the road. Well, on the 23d day of February there came a storm that lasted three days. Yer never saw it snow so in yer life, an the wind blew jest orful. When it was over, we dug out of camp an went ter break out the tote road, an I'm blamed 'f the snow wasn't so deep down whar the notch was that we 'couldn't find the place or them hills at all. It was all smooth snow, level all over 'err, as when we came out in the spring they hadn't come in sight yet. That was bout the deepest snow I ever

Union Pacific Men Dissatisfied.

OMARA, Neb., March 23.-Union Pacific employes are uneasy and restive, and there is an ugly look in the sky. Not a point has been given in by the company, and wherever there was a difference of opinion it still exists, upless the men have receded from their position. This has had a very depressing effect on them. The men have concluded that the conference is a waste of time. It is quietly announced that unless some very substantial concessions are made from the Dundy schedule the receivers of the Union Pacific will soon have a strike on their hands. The men have determined to drop the conference, and will not allow the receivers to settle the point for themselves.

A Good Year for Peaches.

GEORGETOWN, Del., March 23. - The growers throughout the entire peninsula are much encouraged as to a very large product of peaches this season. The open winter has blossomed the trees several weeks ahead of the usual time, and, while it is possible that a sudden cold snap may freeze the sap in the blossoms and thus destroy the crop, the growers are hopeful by reason of the fact that cold snaps have not lately materialized sufficiently to do any harm. However, they will be kept on the anxious bench until about May 10, which is the usual limit of cold weather.

FRIDAY, MARCH 23, 1894.

The internal revenue receipts from whiskey, beer and tobacro, for the past eight months, are $12,000,000 less than for the corresponding months last year, a fact which would seem to indicate that the hard times have very considerably diminished the consumption of the articles named.

The Senate passed unthimbusly yester lay, Mr. Saxton's election law amendment, which provides for five days of registration instead of four and makes the last day two weeks before election, instead of one. The object of the change is to give more time for the examination of the lists for the detection of fraudulent registration.

The reductions made in the Supply bill by the Republican majority in the Legislature are a cheap bid for votes. The saving is apparent, not real, for next year's appropriations will have to be excessive to repair the injury done the property of the State by the neglect which lack of funds to keep it in order makes inevitable.

The Port Jervie Union announces that it is authorized to contradict, in the most positive and unqualified manner, the report that Hon. Francis Marvin does not desire a renomination. The Union says in effact that party usage and decent treatment of Mr. Marvin require that other candidates keep out of Mr. Marvin's preserve until he voluntarily announces that his political GRAVESEND INSPECTORS TO PLEAD ambitions are at an end.

Pennsylvania's Attorney General has notified the District Attorney of Monroe county that if he does not display more vigilance in the prosecution of the Stroudsburg lynchers the State authorities will take hold of the matter. This sounds well, but does not alter the situation. Until the people of Monroe county can be converted to the belief that the lynching of the negro musderer was acrime, the lynchers will never be as strong as public sentiment, and so long as the people of Monroe county approve of the lynching just so long will the lynchers go scot free.

The Saxton ballot bill which passed the Senate, yesterday, provides for a blanket ballot, with party emblems. and waile permitting the use of "individual pasters," makes no provision for "blanket pasters." The Sheffield bill which passed the As. sembly, yesterday, is identical in its provisions with the Saxton act except that it makes no provision for pasters of any kind. It is not believed that Gov. Flower will approve of any bill that does not allow the use of the "blanket paster." His position is that the paster is necessary to insure to illiterate voters the expression of their choice in casting their ballots, and that unless the use of the paster is permitted the right of suffrage is abridged and an educational qualification arbitrarily estab, lished.

The Republicans of the State Legislature have already nineteen investigations under way. The pretense, in every instance, is public interest and the cause of good government, but the real purpose in every case is to manufacture party capital. The various committees are equipped with full retiques of attorneys, clerks, stenographers, sergeants-at-erms, messengers, etc., for jobs must be found for perty heelers. Some idea of the cost of these smelling committees may be had from the fact that the bills paid for investigations ordered by receat Republican Legislatures amounted to $136,000. No one objects to Republican Senators making for their party all the capital that they can out of their accidental supremacy at Albany, but it is hardly the Jecent thing to saddle on all the people of the State the expenses of a Republican hunt for partisan material for Republican pur-

THE DEATH OF MATTIE FULLER.

A Story that Magee Annoyed the Bead Cirl With Ills Attention. By United Press

NEW YORK, March 23-The Evening Telegram says that according to one of Miss Fuller's friends, a young woman typewriter, whose name is withheld, Miss Fuller complained to her that Magee began sonoying her with his avowals of affection, soon after she was employed by Lawyer Mullen. The young woman adds that notwithstanding Mullen's assertion to the contrary, Miss Fuller did complain to him that Magee's attentions were appoying.

It is probable that the body of Miss Fuller may be exhumed, in order to satisfactorily settle the question whether she had been assaulted or not, so as to establish a motive for the crime. Dr. Conway claims to have discovered blood marks on the body and garments of the girl, but no attention was paid to them.

FIRE AT THE NORTH END-

A Blaze in the House of A. D. Terwilliger Quickly Extinguished-Much Damage Done by Water.

At 7:30 o'clock, last evening, an alarm was sounded from box 16, at the corner of North street and Wisner avenue. Octarios were quickly on the spot and soon had a stream on the fire, which had started in the basement of the residence of Mr. A. D. Terwilliger, on Linden Terrace.

Excles were next on the scene although they, with Excelsiors, had gone to box 17 at the saw factory. The fire was quickly extinguished, but not until the building was badly damaged by fire and water. Excelsiors, E.gles, Monhagens and McQuoids all answered the call to box 17. The two latter companies returned to their houses when they learned that the fire was located near box 16, as they do not answer the first call to that box. Excelsiors were obliged to wait until a team of horses could be procused to take them to the fire.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. The family was absent from home, having left the house about 3 o'clock in the atternoon. They took ten at a friend's house and in the evening attended the minstrel entertainment at the Casino, and knew nothing of their loss until after the performance.

The building was insured for $1,500 in the Glens Fall Insurance Company, and the conferts for $600 in the Ottent, of Hartford, through the agency of Case & Taylor. 🦠

These policies had been standing preach the sermou at the Good Fri- since 1891. In January, 1893, Mrs. placed an additional insurance of $560 on the house, through the agency of Boyd & Combs. On March 13.h. 1804, she placed still another policy of $2,000 on the building, through the agency of A. Neafie, of that a number of fine trout have been Gosher. Both these colicies were

JUDGMENT FOR DEFENDANT

Decision of the Referce in the Suit of the Merchants and Manufacturers Bank Against Robinson.

R. R. Jelliff, referee, has filed his decision in the suit of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Bank, of this city, against Edward F. Robinson. The action was brought to foreclose money of 1,200 acres of quarry land. in the town of Forestburgh, sold to Robinson by O B. Wheeler, the mortgage have g been assigned to the bank, by M Wheeler to secure payment of a note for $2,000.

The defense was fraudulent representation by Mr. Wheeler, in negotiating the sale and damages for the alleged fraud were asked.

The Watchman says that the decision of the referee directs a judgment canceling the sale and deed -Mr. A. H. Pratt is very ill with given thereon, and awarding a recovery by Bobinson of $2,141.27 damages, together with his costs of action, and directs the judgment for the recovery and costs to stand as a first lien upon the said lands and have priority over the said mortgage which is allowed to stand for the benefit of the said bank.

The case was conducted by John P. Roosa, Jr., of Monticello, and Daniel Finn, of Middletown, for the plaintiffs, and T. F. Bush for the defendant.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH

A Proposition to Abolish the Office of Sanitary Inspector and Increase the Realth Officer's Salary.

We have been informed that a proposition will be made at the first meeting of the Board of Health, to yield to public opinion by abolishing the office of Sanitary Inspector, with its $250 salary. This is just what the people expect of the Board. But if it is true as reported, that the Board intends to add $100 to the alary of the Health Officer and have him perform the duties of Sanitary Inspector, then the Board will have performed only half its duty.

The salary of the Health Officer is already large enough to make the position eagerly sought after and it spector, it is a part of his duties as Health Officer-that is to investigate plumbing is properly done or, when necessary, to inspect the plumbing already done in any building where there is reason to believe that it is defective and the Health Officer is as competent to do such work as any other man, who is not a plumber.

A Pine Buth Young Woman Near the Brink of the Bark River.

There was considerable excitement in Pine Bush, last evening, when it was reported that a young married woman had died from the effects of a dose of poison administered by herself. 'Did she go?''

"She did not, although I explained to her that if she would merely step down stairs and speak to the burglar in a conciliatory way he would probably go away quietly, and there would be no trouble. I told her that if I should suddenly come face to face in my own house with a crude, uncouth robber who had not been invited there, and who had no etters of introduction, my fiery temper would probably get the better of me. and there would be an awful hand to hand struggle, which would like enough inspire in me such a fiendish longing for warm, red blood that I would thrash around for weeks afterward killing respectable people on sight. I have always striven for a higher mission in life than to go around shooting large, ragged holes through the vitals of my fellow men, and for that reason I explained to my wife how even a burglar might have loved ones dependent upon him for support, and that life was probably just as dear to him as it is to a member of congress.

"But you can't talk any sense into a woman's head after she has become imbued with the idea that there are burglars in the house, and at length, rather than have any trouble over the matter. I arose, and grasping a revolver and lighting my boy's dark lantern started out to find that burglar and explain to him that he must have been misled by the number on the door and got into the wrong house. I did not go down on a gallep, because I preferred to give the housebreaker a chance to realize his dauger and escape with his life while there was yet time. It seemed harsh and unfeeling to coldly shoot a man to death when I did not even know what ward he voted in, and so I slammed things around and created considerable disturbance on the way down

"I looked under the door mat and turned my searchlight on the hatrack without finding a larglar and was just on the point of returning up stairs to consult with my write as to whether sho car, d to have the parler carpet mussed up whith his blood if I should find him when I caught a glimper of a form roled in a leng misoer start, back from the landing and each up sairs. We made the first eircuit of my family residence within 19 sociads, and though I could not focus the dark lanters quickly enough to get a good look at the housebreaker I could tell by his hourse labored breathing and the way in which he reached out and covered space that he was good deal annoyed by the turn affais and taken.

"I had never seen a burglar act that way before, and it did a good deal toward restoring confidence. It seemed to me that a burglar who had no more sang froid and nerve than that had better go home and take in plain sewing rather than try to eke out a precarious existence in the midnight marauding line, and the reflection served to put so much Loyish zeal and enthusiasm into my mad pursuit that the hem of the only garment with one exception that I was wearing at the time began to fray out. On the third lap we plunged heavily over the baby's crib in the nursery, and my wife covered up her head in the bed clothes and sergamed, and the dog took after both of us, and there was trouble all around.

"On the next round the burglar gained a trifle on me, and when he reached the kitchen he unbolted the back door and dashed out into the night, with a piercing wail, and I after him. We tore around the house twice and then down the sidewalk to the next house, where the burglar made a break for the barn in the rear. The Human Electrical Forces:

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve field may be termed, is an espetially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked on influence on the health of the organs of the body. As eve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by incans of the nerves to the various errans of the body, thus, upplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insome their health. The pneumonastric nerve, as thown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve systo be the most important of the entire nerve system as it supplies the heart longs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force becessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the le branches supply the eart, lungs and ston

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. training to Makitain a Position Reyoud Their Means - An Americate About Prople Who Marrige to Get Along and Get Along by Managing.

Do you know that there is a class of teople whosulf rand of whom the world never hear.? I mean these when we are apt to call the genteel poor. They are always with us. In my life I have listened to a great many queer stories about them, and they are really to be pitied. They are, many of them, single women of uncertain age, who are obliged to live on infinitesi, nal incomes and with an amount of style. They can't bring their ideas down to the level of their fortunes. They have always been used to certain things, and they must have or at least appear to have them. They can live only in a particular part of town, no matter if the rent consumes the biggest part of their funds, and they must do other things in just proportion. How do they do it? Why, with an amount of ingenuity that would be valuable in a bet-

They "manage." That is the word. The genteel poor "manage" to get along and get along by "managing."

Take a case that I happen to know about. They were a pair of sisters who rented apartments.

I am not afraid to assert that they lived on samples. They went from one grocer to another and collected, little by little, almost all the things they needed for their meager menage.

Sample cans of soup furnished their table at many a midday meal. Their cracker jar was a wonderful mixture of different brands. They did so like a variety, they said. Their bonbon dish was replenished in a way that seemed little ort of stealing. They would make pe riodical calls at various confectioners and at each take a bit of candy from the piles that were exposed to view. Hidden in a bag, or in a maff if it was winter. the aggregate of this booty when taken home formed quite a dishful and helped out at their afternoon receptions, which, in accordance with their ideas of Lospi tality and the traditions of their family, they always gave during the season.

I used to wonder how they felt when they knelr on Sundays before that gorgeous shrine which they affected and gave the response to that solemn admenition, "Thou shalt not steal," but I fancy they thought it was perfectly le-

They always dressed in black, and I am sure I don't know bow they "managed" their wardrobes. I suppose the bargain counters belood them out, and I fancy their gowns were sometimes madby a very swell dre-smaker whom years ago they employed as a segmetress and introduced to their wealthy friends. By this the woman was enabled to get a footing, and no doubt gratitude prompted her to give them some help in the fe construction of their wardrobes.

But this was long ago. I wonder it petry contony. Tageth it, but I do not I am going to tell you.

The two women had be n invited to diamer group by a swell in tall. The elder could not go on mediate (for) health, lett the yeariger must. The came the question of what to we in. Ev-Krythmachiol besit subjected, and there was no money for a restoned At Let, in desprir, the young river, in epined a track filled with children in an in or etory-their childhood's name.

She had it! Within its depths there was the black silk robe that her father had worn. It was heavy and of beautiful texture. Its ample fords would make a short skirt and part of a waist. While in a quantary as to what would fill out the deficiency she saw beneath the velvet pall that had covered her father's coffin. It had been the last loving tribute of a sick parishioner. Here were the train and another part of the waist. Did no thought of its association with the dead man or remembrance of the solemn service return to her, you ask? Not a bit of it. Beneath it, crumpled up in many creases, was the crape that had draped the altar. Behold what a costume was evolved! A long train of velvet over a skirt of heavy black silk trimmed with folds of crape, whose somber blackness served to make still whiter the neck displayed beneath the decollete corsage. She was elegant indeed, and at the dinner she played her cards so well that she captured an extremely eligible bachelor, and her struggles were over.

But think of it! I know you'll say, 'Oh, the pity of it!" You have often heard the saying: "God help the rich. The poor can beg. I say the Lord's poor will be taken care of, but pity, on, pity, the genteel poor!-Boston Herala.

A Real Swell.

The tramp had called at a house where there had been a party the night before and had been given a very good meal at the kitchen table, with the lady of the house superintending the feast. She was a good hearted woman, and thinking the wanderer neight appreciate a dainty she had added a dish of ice cream to the menu. She put a spoon beside it, and m a minute or two he was ready for it and she stood by to note his enjoyment.

"I beg your pardon, mum," he side as he picked up the spaon, "will you be kind anough to give me a fork to tatthis cream with?" and the good woman Proof collapsed. - Detroit Free Press.

Castoria.

Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

De. G. C. Oscoop, Lowell, East.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoma instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other huriful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Encurior, Consay, Ark. 1 Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me '

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St , Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicims in the children's depart ment have spoken highly of their experi ence in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular produces, yet we are free to confess that the ments of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it " $\,$

I notice that the property owners on one of Newburgh's business city. atreets, which it is proposed to repave, have concluded that Belgian blocks are just what is needed to make the street perfect. Middletown, Most of the jokes were new and up after fiftees years of very unsatisfactory experience with Belgian Llocks is about to discard them for something better. If Newburgh really wants Belgian blocks, Middletown has a good many thousands, little if any the worse for wear, which it will be glad to sell at the very lowest of job lot prices.

A mistake in the "make-up" of a newspaper is always liable to occur, but it seldom happens that in mixing up two articles, the misplaced paragraph fits in so naturally and reads as bewilderingly as in the case of a blunder made in yesterday's New York Times where, in the midst of an article in regard to the President's probable action on the Seigniorage bill, appeared part of Father Lambert's explanation of his reasons for 12 o'clock. leaving the Church of Rome. The connection in this case was worked up to most beautifully, as will be

"Though leaving the Church of Rome and renouncing the priesthood, I do not forget, nor never will forget, to cherish the memory of many good and dear friends whom I in a free country.'

I see that some of the papers are debating the very important question "What colored carnation should young men wear in their button holes?" A young man of my acquaintance has solved this knotty problem to his queen's taste. He changes the color of his boutonniere to match the color of the flowers or ribbons in his best 'girl's hat, and when his friends see him with a pink flower they know the pink hat is being given an airing, with a red flower that is the re i hat's day, and so on.

The cereand seat around several moulds of mony will take place at the home of jelly. It was put on the table, was eat-n of by ail and pronounced most delicious, when to the horror of the temperance ladies an unregenerate man, who happened to be partaking of their hospitality, shocked and horrifled them by asking for "some mone of that wine jelly" The remnants of the wicked stuff were got off i the table in the shortest possible time, and when the ladies caucused over the matter they decided that the wine jully woman should thereafter be jersona non gratia in the councils of the usion, not that they thought she intended anything wrong, but "because, you see, a woman who would do such a thing is only making believe temperance."

Erie, there is a milk station called Van Keuren's, about two miles south it is understood by everybody in the neighborhood, that the waving of a handkerchief or even the hand in daylight, or the lighting of a match at night, is all the signal the engineer requires to stop the train.

There is a sharp curve just south of the depot and quite a steep grade, and as the train usually runs at good speed at this point, Engineer Miatram always keeps a sharp lookout for a signal, so as to able to be stop at the station if necessary.

On Tuesday evening, as the engine rounded the curve, both Mr. Mintram and his fireman saw a light at the depot and the engine was reversed and the air brake applied, but when the engine was opposite the platform Mr. Mintram saw two lights instead of one and behind them a big Thomas c.t. A NEW RULE ON THE ERIE Conductors to Have Freeedence According to Length of Service.

From the Hymedscale Press It is rumored that all conductors on the Susquebant a Div sion have been requested to send to Superintendent Maguaro the time tiley first began running a train, and when all replies are in, then all runs are to be advertised and the oldest men bidding for the runs will get them. This being a fact, will make many changes, Many freight conductors will put on the "blue and briss" and some conductors, who are at present ranning passenger trains, will go awaling again. This is the correct thing and then in the future there can be no "kicking," of which, by the way, there has been considerable lately.
